The University of Tokyo Program for Leading Graduate Schools Integrated Human Sciences Program for Cultural Diversity

Information Sessions

for Entry to the October 2014 Master's and Doctoral Programs

Integrated Human Sciences Program for Cultural Diversity (IHS) is a graduate program that was selected as a program for leading graduate schools by the Japan Society for the Promotion of Science (JSPS) in the academic year 2013. The Graduate Schools of Arts and Sciences and of Interdisciplinary Information Studies are responsible for running this program. We will hold information sessions on Hongo and Komaba I campuses of the University of Tokyo.

The main target of the information sessions is master's and doctoral students entering into one of the graduate schools of the University of Tokyo in October 2014. But we also welcome other graduate and undergraduate students who are interested in the IHS program.

Students in the IHS program will be given a monthly stipend so that they may concentrate on their own studies.

For details, please see the IHS website.
